

Monthly Organizing Special

February is closet makeover month. To makeover your closet this month, you may want to consider 2 major categories: organization & wardrobe consulting. Let's start with organization. Take a look in your closet. Do you have mismatched hangers all squashed together? If you do, you will be surprised at how big of a visual difference this one little tip is going to make. Decide on a type of hanger (plastic, wood or velvet) and hang all of your clothes on the same type and color of hanger. I'm telling you now that it doesn't matter which kind (that is determined by preference and budget), but rather that they are all the same! Now pull out the unused hangers and place them all together. When you pull an item off the hanger, remove the hanger and add it to that group. Your clothes will have more room to breathe and you won't have to go searching for an empty hanger each time you have to hang laundry.

Now let's address your wardrobe. Statistics say we wear 20% of our clothes, 80% of the time. That means that 80% of the clothes in our closets are not getting worn due to a number of reasons, the biggest of which is FIT. If one of your New Year's Resolutions was to lose weight, you may be seeing some results by now and have some clothes that are too big. If it wasn't or you haven't lost weight, that's ok too. In fact, maybe it is time to start wearing clothes for the body you HAVE instead of the body you WISH you had! I came to this realization recently while standing in my closet looking at everything that was too small on me. When my husband invited me to come along with him on a business trip to New York, I knew I needed to do something about my wardrobe, or lack there of. I hired Kimberly Pearson to help me and let me tell you what a difference she has made! Kimberly took the mystery out of clothes shopping for me. She taught me principles of what types of things to look for to accentuate my assets and what things to avoid that draw attention to my trouble spots. We went shopping together and she helped me coordinate pieces that I never would have put together and they look great! Because of this great experience, we've asked Kimberly to join our Perfectly Placed team so you can benefit from her expertise as well.

If you'd like help with closet organization or wardrobe consulting, we are offering a 20% discount off BOTH of these services during the month of February.
