Introducing "A Moment's Notice"

Perfectly Placed is pleased to announce the launch of its first product. A Moment's Notice is an online closet that allows you to stretch and make the most of your wardrobe by viewing it online. It allows you to sort your clothing in a variety of ways and creates packing lists for travel in addition to a number of other uses.

Top 10 Reasons To Buy AMN

- You wear 20% of your clothes, 80% of the time. If you could remember what was in there, you'd make use of the other 80%.
- Your clothes are spread out in a variety of places and you can't remember where you keep x, y and z.
- You tend to buy too many similar items. Searching by category, color or designer would help you determine where the "holes" are in your wardrobe.
- You own more than one home and leave clothes in both places. You find it difficult to remember what you have left at the other home.
- You hang onto your clothes longer than you should. Seeing the dates you purchased the items would encourage you to let go of some things and free up some space.
- You have lost more clothes at the dry cleaner than you can count. Having a system for tracking what is at the cleaners would help you tremendously.
- You frequently speak in public, appear on TV or attend networking functions. It is important that you track what you wore to each event.

- You have lost your luggage more than once while traveling. If you had provided proper documentation of what was in the suitcase, you would have been reimbursed.
- Your jewelry collection is valuable. Having documentation of its value for insurance purposes is essential.
- Let's face it, having your closet online is just plain cool! Instead of shopping at an online store, you can shop right in your own closet..... and the cost is much less.
