

1, 2, 3

If only it were as easy as 1, 2, 3..... Summer is almost here and the kids will soon be home all day. No homework, sleeping in, vacation, lethargic children who would like you to let them watch TV all day. Ahh, the joys of summer!

To help you maintain some sense of structure to your summer, I am highlighting 3 products that may end up as lifesavers to those of you who are moms. The first is a Chore Pad made by Mom Agenda. I find that if I don't start the summer with chores for the kids, I spend the entire summer trying to regain control. Save yourself the trouble of trying to make your own chart and use these convenient tear off pages.

Second is the Mom's Notebook which is useful for taming all the papers sitting on your kitchen counter. Mom's Notebook gives you a place for kids activities, party invitations and plans, personal papers and more. Mom's Notebooks are $20 + S&H. Contact me to order.

The third product is for those of you with children aged 2-6. It can be frustrating teaching your child how to get ready in the morning when they are unable to read. Morning cards have pictures and simple instructions for the tasks your child needs to do in the morning to get out the door. Comes with a set of 11 cards. Start with a few and add in more cards as your child masters each. Morning Cards are $10 +S&H. Contact me to order.

Wishing you all a fun and encouraging summer!

Sincerely,

Susan Stewart
