

Get the balls off the floor

'Tis the season for balls..... Well, any season is the season at our house, but as I was trying to find a parking spot at my son's soccer game today I thought, "Wow, there sure are a lot of kids playing sports right now!"

If your kids are in sports, it is likely that there are balls and sports equipment all over the house, backyard and garage. What to do with it all? It is time to get it all up off the floor and ground. I like this sports rack because it doesn't use up precious floor space. I have it placed on the wall in my garage just inside the door from the house so it is easy to access. Now all the balls have a home and my kids know where to look when they need their sports equipment. Relatively compact and a cinch to install, this sports organizer is a simple solution to tripping over balls in the garage.
