

Go Vertical

When working with small spaces, it is imperative to make use of vertical space. Now choose a product that is attractive and your organization is now doing double duty as wall decor. Here are 3 tips for making the most of vertical storage.

1. Pick the color intentionally, not spontaneously. Many people choose a product spontaneously because they like the color. When they get home and realize it doesn't match the room they want to put it in, they become frustrated. Think through where you will use it and choose your color accordingly.
2. Do not let pockets, baskets, or any container become a "catch all" or that is exactly what it will do. Give things a home and be consistent about placing that particular item (and only that particular item) in that spot.
3. Too many sticky notes or things on a bulletin board or magnet board makes clutter. Use a to do list for lists of things. Use the board for morning reminders or motivating quotes.
