

Flour/Sugar Dispensers

Due to the overwhelming response to the last vidcast, this months product spotlight is on a product I showed in the video. These sugar/flour bag in dispensers are great for storing baking staples like flour, sugar, brown sugar and even Bisquick. Having staples in containers makes them less likely to spill and keeps them free from bugs. The handles make them easy to grab and using all of the same containers gives your pantry a unified look. So here's to all of you who were motivated to get your pantry and refrigerator organized!
